

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

known guests from abroad are expected Mr. Prothero, of London, Professor Eduard Meyer, of Berlin, and Ambassador Bryce, of England. The program as a whole is unusually attractive and strong.

Those going from the central and southern portion of Indiana will probably find the most convenient train is that leaving Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania railroad Sunday morning at 8:10. It is to be hoped that a large number will attend from this State, especially in view of the fact that the next succeeding meeting of the Association is to be in Indianapolis.

NOTES.

The Henry County Historical Society held its semi-annual meeting on Thursday, October 28, at the building of the society in Newcastle. The program embraced among other things addresses by the president, Adolph Rogers, and by Frank J. Hall, Lieutenant-Governor of Indiana. The officers are Adolph Rogers, president; John Thornburg, secretary; Loring A. Williams, financial secretary; Dr. Thomas M. Gronendyke, treasurer; E. H. Bundy, Henry Charles, B. F. Koons, trustees.

We have received Publication Number Six of the Old Settler and Historical Association of Lake County, a pamphlet of twenty-nine pages, selling for 25 cents. It contains papers and addresses of the meeting of the Association at Crown Point, August 24-25, 1909, and a very interesting account of a trip made to Chicago from Eagle Creek, Lake county, in 1838 by Judge David Turner and two companions. The officers of the Association are as follows: President, Sam B. Woods; vice-president, John Hack; recording secretary, Mrs. H. Groman; curator, Mrs. Pattee; treasurer, Miss Edith Dinwiddie; historical secretary, T. H. Ball.

The Ohio Valley Historical Association held its third annual meeting at Frankfort, Kentucky, October 14-16, inclusive. The meeting is reported to have been successful in every respect. The program was an exceptionally good one, both in the character of the subjects discussed and in the selection of speakers.